

ICL-QUESTIONNAIRE

NAME: Caroline Winter

GRANT PERIOD: 9/08 – 7/09

PRESENT POSITION US: Intern, Tina Brown's upcoming site

BORN: June 18, 1979

LANGUAGES: English, German, French

GERMAN HOST INSTITUTION

Frei Universitaet zu Berlin

ACADEMIC DISCIPLINE

Journalism

AREAS OF RESEARCH

Architectural History, History, Politics, Culture

POSSIBLE LECTURE TOPICS

1. The story of East German architecture told through the destruction of the GDR parliament building and its last living architect, a man who now lives on the outskirts of Berlin with his two cats Leni Riefenstahl and Rosa Luxemburg.
2. Falk Walter, the impressive story of a teenager who fled East Germany by traveling through Poland, Russia, Mongolia and China only to return to Germany and transform derelict corners of the former East into thriving cultural locals, including the Arena, Badeschiff and the Admiralspalast
3. German junk playgrounds: Bringing children into contact with fire and danger

ACADEMIC TRAINING AND DEGREES

Bachelor of Arts, Wesleyan University

Masters of Science, Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism

PREVIOUS POSITIONS

Book researcher for former New York magazine editor; Editorial intern for Mother Jones magazine; Editorial intern for The Daily Beast, the upcoming news site headed by former New Yorker and Vanity Fair editor Tina Brown

PUBLICATIONS (selected)

Previously published in The New York Times, The New York Times Magazine, The International Herald Tribune, Mother Jones, and Adbusters

*****